1998 Regatta Button

This year's button was based on a design by Israel Jurich of Knappa High School. Jurich's design has also been used on Regatta posters and brochures. Buttons are available from area merchants for $4. They can also be purchased at Regatta Square for $5, and they provide admission to the Square.

WELCOME FROM PRESIDENT DICK GARNER

Hello and welcome to the 1998 Regatta. It's hard to imagine that, for 104 years, someone has been welcoming the public to the Regatta Festival, the oldest celebration on the West Coast.

Just as last year, the festival is being held on Pier Two at the port docks. The Regatta was originally conceived as a waterfront activity, and it still is.

This year, you will be able to tour a working fishing vessel, the oil spill cleanup ship Oregon Responder, and military naval ships. You can watch sailboat races, dragon boat races, and take a one-hour ride on the environmental ship Captain Conner or Tiki Charter's Shamrock.

Each day you will be able to enjoy live music from the time the Square opens until it closes, as well as helping yourself to food of all kinds. You can also check out the 60+ vendor booths. As always, we will have a Beer Garden and a Pirate's Den. This year, the Pirate's Den will be run by Chinook Winds Casino and Resort.

Fireworks will be fun to watch as they explode over the river in a multitude of colors at 10 p.m. Saturday night, August 8, 1998.

A carnival for family fun will be just outside Regatta Square on Pier Two. You will also be able to take a helicopter ride if you would like to see the scenic wonders of our area from the air.

Don't miss the Regatta Square Car Show on Saturday from 2 p.m. to 6 p.m. See 150 beautifully restored cars right on Pier Two. If you want to see more cars, the Clatsop County Fairgrounds will have a car show as well.

If softball is your sport, see over 60 teams compete in the Regatta Softball Tournament.

All in all, I think everyone in your family could find a way to have a great weekend in Astoria. From the entire Astoria Regatta Association, Welcome and Have Fun!

Richard Garner, President
Astoria Regatta Association.

Parades have some fun mixing music, children, and beauty

This year's Grand Land Parade begins at noon Saturday by the Moose Lodge on 14th Street and winds through downtown Astoria toward Regatta Square. Featured in this year's parade will be the Get a Life Band from Portland. This band was started the summer of 1993 as a joke. 90% of its members are from the One More Time Around Band. They are an "over the hill" band that just wants to have fun; their motto is "we eat better, then we play." Another motto is "don't call us late for dinner"! This band performs in 8 to 10 two-mile parades a year, as well as other events.

You can walk, ride a bike, pull a wagon or ride in a pedicab wearing your favorite costume. This is a non-motorized vehicle event. At the end of the parade, the Kiwanis will provide treats for the participants.

Getting Down to Business: Victorian Homes of Astoria

Is the theme of the 1998 Astoria Regatta historic homes tour which will be held on Saturday, August 8, and Sunday, August 9, from 1:00 to 4:00 p.m.

Tickets for the self-guided tour will be on sale at two museums of Clatsop County Historical Society on the days of the tour. The museums are: Heritage Museum, 1618 Exchange and Flavel House, 441 8th. The $7.50 ticket package includes admission for all six houses plus an illustrated program with a brief history of each house. Children under 12 with adults are free.

The six houses, all in central Astoria, relate to the theme Getting Down to Business because they all are Victorian homes now used for businesses. They include a Bed & Breakfast (in a house built circa 1885), an artist's studio (1879); a print shop (circa 1895); a community radio station KMUN (1894); and a bakery (1891). In most cases, the owners live upstairs, and coming downstairs means business.

All the owners are friends of historic preservation and are pleased to share their homes with the public for the benefit of the historical society which will use the proceeds to continue to improve the museums.

Knappa student's design chosen as the 1998 Regatta logo

Knappa High School student Israel Jurich won the 1998 Regatta Theme Logo prize.

Jurich received $100 from the Regatta celebration for creating the award winning design, according to Regatta President Dick Garner. Open to all art students in area schools, the contest is the first time that the Regatta has sought logo art from students.

Jurich maintains a 4.0 GPA and plays football for his school.

Garner said the contest drew more than 30 entries on the theme of "Water Fantasy." Jurich's artwork is used in the 1998 Regatta lapel pin that also serves as the official Regatta events entry pass. The design also is highlighted on the Regatta parade float that is used to promote the event in Astoria and throughout the Pacific Northwest.

Congratulations Israel!

Dragon Boat races a first at Regatta

For the first time, Dragon Boats will race in the Columbia River. Races will take place all day Sunday, August 9, and team awards will be presented at 3:30 Sunday afternoon in Regatta Square. The Dragon Boats are Taiwan type boats with 16 paddlers, a drummer, a captain, and a steersperson. Sponsors of the Dragon Boat races include Birdwell Motors, Lum's Auto Center, Ocean Crest Motors, and the Chinese Community.

Dragon Boats are the most popular early summer activity in the Orient wherever Chinese cultural influence prevails. The Dragon Boat Races evolved from the legend of Chu Yuan's suicide in the Mi Luo River and the search for his body.

Dragon boating was introduced to Portland in 1988 with the first race staged in the summer of 1989. The Portland-Kaohsiung Sister City Association organized and promoted the first race and has continued to lead the way through the Dragon Boat program. Throughout the years, the Dragon Boat races in Portland have become international. In recent years, Portland teams have traveled to New York and British Columbia to compete with other Dragon Boat teams from across the continent.

Queen Carole bids farewell

It has been almost a full year since I was crowned Regatta Queen, but I remember the day as clearly as yesterday.

I remember the four of us in our matching formals, nervously pacing in the hallway. We kept glancing anxiously at one another, wondering which one of us would become Queen in a very short time.

At the moment, I must admit I was really concentrating on the big crown, but I would soon learn that once I got past that fairy tale evening, there would be great responsibility in store. Great responsibility tempered with great fun.

Over the past two years, I have seen a lot, learned a lot, and eaten a lot. In each and every town we've visited, we have also met a lot of interesting people. It has pleased me a great deal to see how much pride each city has and how much community spirit they generate. We have always been welcomed with open arms and invited to participate in every tradition.

But now as the year draws to a close, I will be left with fantastic memories and a long list of thank-you's.

First and foremost, I would like to thank the Regatta Association for giving me the tremendous honor of being their representative. Along with this, I would also like to thank my family for their support, love and encouragement.

I want to thank my Admiral, Court Chairpersons, chaperones, escorts, and the many others who've tried hard to make me feel like royalty. Over the last two years, they have gone out of their way to make me feel like one of their own, to make me comfortable, and keep me well-dressed.

I am grateful for the relationship I established with my Queen, Audrey Mitchell, and I thank her for her helpfulness and tidbits of information.

I owe a huge debt of gratitude to my 1997 court. We have manifested a lifelong friendship and I thank them for the great times of the past and the great times to come.

Queen Carole Chase

To JoLee, Kelsey, Laura, and Dayna, I wish you the best of luck with your future endeavors. It has been a true pleasure to get to know you this year.

To the 1998 Regatta Queen, whoever she may be, I wish for you a year as terrific as mine was and the safety of knowing that whenever you have a question or a problem, I will be here.

It is with sadness that I turn over the crown, but I feel great joy in anticipation of the next lucky Queen. Thanks again and farewell!

Queen Carole Chase

See You There!

This year's float, which depicts the Regatta theme of "Water Fantasy," was constructed by Chuck Godwin, who has been our float builder for over five years. Chuck, his wife Fran, and Regatta volunteers devote hours to designing and building the float, then taking it to various parades throughout the Pacific Northwest. This year, our float entertained paradegoers in Tacoma, Puyallup, Olympia, Portland, Tillamook, Long Beach, Warrenton and Seaside.
